Air 3 Subjects Next Semester

By JOHN DONDANVILLE, Star Special Writer

A Board of Education ruling last week insured Valley College of closed circuit television for the Fall 1957 semester.

The sum of $20,794.00 was allotted to the experimental plan which will run similar to the one in practice presently at LACC. Classes which are scheduled to be viewed over the television screens by students are Health 10, Geography 1 and History 11.

"The plan is to compensate for growth in enrollment and the anticipated lack of qualified teachers in the Los Angeles area," said Director Walter T. Coultas.

The broadcasting studio will be located in Room 24 where the instructor will conduct his class with approximately 40 students to view the class "live." From this point three or four cameras will televise the session into Rooms 53 and 54 where another 100 students can see the lecture.

A partition will be cut between Rooms 53 and 54 to join the classrooms and an instructor will supervise from this point while students look at the shows from three or four television screens in each room.

In addition to the regular lectures, an illustrator will be employed part time to make charts and graphs to illustrate various points of the lectures.

Former Valley College instructor, Dr. George Goody will continue to judge the practibility of the experimental program at Valley the same as he has surveyed the program at LACC during this semester.

If the teaching program should be discontinued, the structures will remain college property for instructional purposes, according to Coultas, who predicts a course of study in television in the future.

"I would not recommend that a student take more than one television class next semester," Coultas concluded.

Due to television commitments, the following classes are to be canceled or changed, according to Robert J. Nassi, dean of admissions. Students registered in any of these classes should report to the office of admissions for change of program:

Cancel—No. 172, Geography 1 at 8 T, and 9 TTh, Room 22; No. 173, Geography 1 at 2 MWF, Room 24; and No. 221, History 11 at 9 TTh and 10 Th, Room 24.

Change—No. 409, PE 44 from 10 TTh and 11 Th to 11 TTh and 12 Th.

LOVE FLOURISHES—In the last play of the season by the Theater Arts department of Valley College, a tender love story is told in a setting of back wash civilization. "See the Jaguar" concerns men who hunt animals, not for food nor to kill, but to cage. Pictured above are Renee Haddad, Jerry Ervin, Ed French, Gary Murray and Bill MacNeil, left to right, in a scene from the play, which will make its intial showing Monday at 8:30 p.m.

19 Vie for Student Offices Monday; Male Trio Battles for Prexy Title

Vying for student body offices in the elections Monday and Tuesday are 19 Valley College students. A male trio is battling for the top position on campus followed by a lone candidate for vice president.

Voting will be from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. to 8 p.m. in the voting booths, which will be located in the quad and on the hill near the activities board, according to Dwight Shelton, chairman of the election committee.

In the presidential race are three candidates. Stan Bowles, John Dondanville and Jerry Robbins all have "their hats in the ring" and are trying to reach the winner's circle.

Once president of the Business Club, Bowles is now parliamentarian on the present Executive Council in his Delta semester at Valley. Bowles is majoring in business and personal relations. A graduate of North Hollywood High School, the 24 year old executive aspirant is planning to transfer to Los Angeles State College after finishing at Valley.

John Dondanville, past editor in chief of the Valley Star is another candidate. Graduated from John Burroughs High School, Dondanville has been president of Beta Phi Gamma, the honorary Journalism Fraternity at Valley and is a recipient of the outstanding service and outstanding leadership awards. Dondanville is also in Les Savants, Valley honorary scholarship organization.

Present Sophomore Class President and Valley Star Sports Editor is Jerry Robbins. A graduate of North Hollywood High and in his fourth semester at Valley, Robbins is also editor in chief of the Crown, Valley College's yearbook, a member of Beta Phi Gamma, and Les Savants. He also was given a leadership award last semester.

Running unopposed for the vice president's office is Mel Sacks. A prelaw students, Sacks is presently the Freshman Class President and on the Associated Men's Student Council. If he gains enough votes, the North Hollywood High graduate will take over the office now held by John O'Donnell.

Two female "runners" for the office of secretary are Carol Bond and Susan Straumer. Miss Bond is a secretarial science major. In her second semester at Valley, Miss Straumer is a business major and is planning to become a medical secretary.

Running unopposed for the office of treasurer is Dick Revell. A business administration major, Revell was a member of the Fiesta Planning Committee this year. Now living in Van Nuys, the 26 year old aspirant attended Fort Lauderdale High School in Florida.

Vying for Comissioner of Activities are Ray Fergus and Sylvia Schumaker. Belonging to various clubs at Valley, Fergus is an English major and was born in New Zealand. Miss Schumaker is presently a music and education major and plans to become a music teacher in the future. She is also active in the choir.

Virginia Beckhaus and Lloyd Frerer have both petitioned for the position of Commissioner of Assemblies. Miss Beckhaus is majoring in business at Valley. She is also a member of the Ski Lions and plans to be an executive secretary. A theater arts major, Frerer is the present commissioner of assemblies. He is also a member of Sigma Alpha Phi, the French Club, and the Inter-Organization Council.

Another unopposed candidate is Charles Lehman for Commissioner of Publicity. Lehman is now on the publicity committee and is an art major. He plans to carry his major further at UCLA.

Two more non-contested offices are Judy Rabb for Comissioner of Rallies and Mike Traxler for Commissioner of Social Affairs. Miss Rabb is in the Spanish Club but is majoring in primary education. Traxler, an art major, is currently commissioner of publicity at Valley. Both candidates graduated from Canoga Park High School.

For the office of President of the Associated Men Students is Richard Raskoff. Currently vice president of the Freshman Class and a law student, Raskoff is in his second semester at Valley.

Two candidates for the Associated Women Students president are Sue Gordon and Arlene Mallin. A secretarial science major, Miss Gordon is a member of the Ski Club, the German, International, and Natural Science Clubs at present. Miss Hallin, a psychology major is also president of the Writers' Club.

Rounding out the candidates for office of the Freshman and Sophomore class executive heads are Carol Lombard and Richard Williams, respectively. A liberal arts major, Miss Lombard is a member of the Ski Lions and the forthcoming Monarchettes. Williams, while in high school, was vice president of the boys' service organization and is now an education major. Both graduated from North Hollywood High School.

LAST DAY TO WITHDRAW

The last day to withdraw from classes is today, according to Robert J. Nassi, dean of admissions and guidance.

After this students will receive a final grade.

Modern Campus Dreams Unfold

Now the long-awaited day for actual work on the Valley College modern campus has arrived.

Valley College construction bids were opened by the Board of Education officials Tuesday. The contract was awarded to Loren A. Pierce, excavation firm at 2333 N. Niagara St., Burbank.

Workmen began razing the old farmhouse and silo bordering the northeast corner of the campus on Tuesday.

Simultaneously surveyors examined the wooded area and vacant acres adjoining the north and east sides of the main parking lot.

The outcome of this examination will pave the way for ground leveling operations scheduled to begin early next week.

In the leveling process, trees will be removed, shrubbery and debris cleared. Where soil is sandy, as it is facing Fulton street, substantial clay and firmer earth will cover surfaces to several feet in depth.

Where land is high, as it is from Fulton street to the parking lot, grading will be done and proper drainage formed.

During this work the entire area between Ethel and Fulton avenues and to Oxnard street from the campus proper will be graded under a chalking column of bulldozers, earth movers and graders.

Information from the Board of Education shows that costs for this development stage of construction totals $318,168.78.

Expenditures for particular phases of the work indicate that $124,372.18 is ear-marked for streets within the campus.

Site development with trees require $130,162.85. Allotted for inside street lighting, storm drainage and outside street reconstruction is $44,352.73.

Costs for the athletic field amounts to $18,281.02.

Demolition crews and construction gangs will work at the same time in a swift and coordinated system to see that their job is completed in 120 days, according to Mrs. Loren A. Pierce, wife and secretary of the site developer.

Ground-breaking ceremonies following contractor Pierce's work is listed for early fall.

Architect Says Globe Is Dynamic

"Today's world is incipiently the most dynamic conceivable," according to Lloyd Ruocco, AIA, one of the most talented contemporary architects in Southern California.

Appearing as the final speaker on the Athenaeum's spring presentation of lecturers, Ruocco will talk to Valley students, faculty members and residents about community planning Monday at 8 p.m. in the Women's Gym.

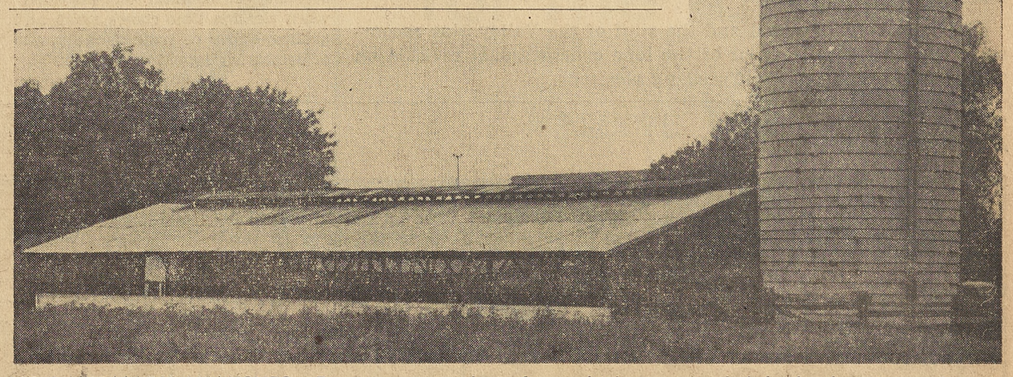
"Ruocco's discussion of community planning, both in commercial and residential areas, should be one of the most timely that the Athenaeum has ever offered," according to Thomas McGuire, Valley English instructor.

From the Design Center in San Diego, Ruocco will speak on the issues and problems presented in moving industry to the Valley. "He is a nationally recognized expert on this subject," said McGuire, "and his lecture will be worthwhile not only to students and instructors, but to any Valley residents interested in planning and growth of the community."

One of the initiators of the Allied Arts Council, Ruocco is a witty and interesting speaker with a good sense of humor, according to Harriet Baker, art instructor.

A graduate of the University of California at Berkeley, where he received a B.S. in architecture with honors, Ruocco has pioneered the use of all glass structure. He has engineered many innovations in open and flexible planning.

Interested in the relationships between the arts and the potential of art to promote a better life, Ruocco believes that to make change into progress requires public education and debate.



VC LANDMARK VANISHES—First to go in the landscaping and grading phase of construction of Valley's new campus was the silo pictured above in its site off of Fulton Avenue. At 7 a.m. Tuesday morning, the silo was razed by the Pierce excavating firm, which was awarded the landscaping and grading bid by the Board of Education Monday night. Removing of the silo opened a golden future to Valley, as the first work on the new campus began.

EDITORIALLY SPEAKING

Instructors Aided

Classroom television is on a nationwide basis now. Twenty-two American communities have special educational television stations. With no sponsors and advertising to mar the format, ETV, Educational Television stations, provide only a variety of informative programs.

Not in competition with major network productions, none of these stations are over four years old.

The infomative programs offer anything from psychology to gardening and child care classes. When special interest groups request a class in nuclear fission, ceramics, natural science, Spanish, etc., the ETV station calls in an expert or two to present the course.

Boston ETV presented a four night a week course in French 1. "The French Course shows objects and situations in simple line drawings while the teacher speaks the appropriate French words, which can also be read on the screen," according to Harland Manchester in the May issue of the Reader's Digest. "The exact size of this class is not known, but when the station recommended a textbook to supplement it, bookstores sold 20,000 copies," he also stated.

As many as 1364 students enrolled in a "TV Junior College" program. Classes in biology, social science and political science as part of the junior college program were put on by the Chicago ETV station.

Last year 80 students received high school diplomas through the Pittsburgh's Adult School of the Air. Home courses complete from the correction of papers to final exams and credit are offered to the viewers for a small fee.

From the local view the prospect of television classrooms in schools would group the authorities in the various fields of education. Through cooperation with leading universities and schools several lecturers can be obtained for one course.

In addition to offering top rank courses, classes could be presented to tremendous numbers of students and would assist in aiding the instructor shortage.

Sirens To Be Heard

Wails of sirens will be heard throughout the nation this weekend. Why? Because Americans will still be celebrating yesterday, Memorial Day.

Traffic will be heavy and with summer on its way, the heat will make tempers short. Drivers will rush to their destinations, get disgusted with the "Sunday" driver in front of them, and then who knows? The wail of sirens?

Will you or a member of your family be one of the people mourned next year during Memorial Day, when the nation pauses to honor the dead of this country's wars, including the traffic war?

This year, according to the National Safety Council, it is estimated that 120 persons will meet death on Memorial Day, followed by 75 deaths each day for the entire weekend.

At that rate 445 persons will die this weekend in a war which never ends, a war without a peace treaty, unless you can label death as peace.

Since 1868, with this statement from General John A. Logan, "Let us strew with flowers or otherwise decorate the graves of comrades who died in defense of their country," Americans have been mourning the war dead.

The war heros of the Civil War, World War I and II are being mourned because they gave their lives for their country.

What will the people who die in traffic accidents be mourned for? Probably because they were in a hurry to get to their destination, without thinking they might never arrive.

Valley College student, will you be on campus Monday?

Amendment Asked

Shall the offices of Commissioner of Men's Athletics and Commissioner of Women's Athletics be combined into one office, Commissioner of Athletics?

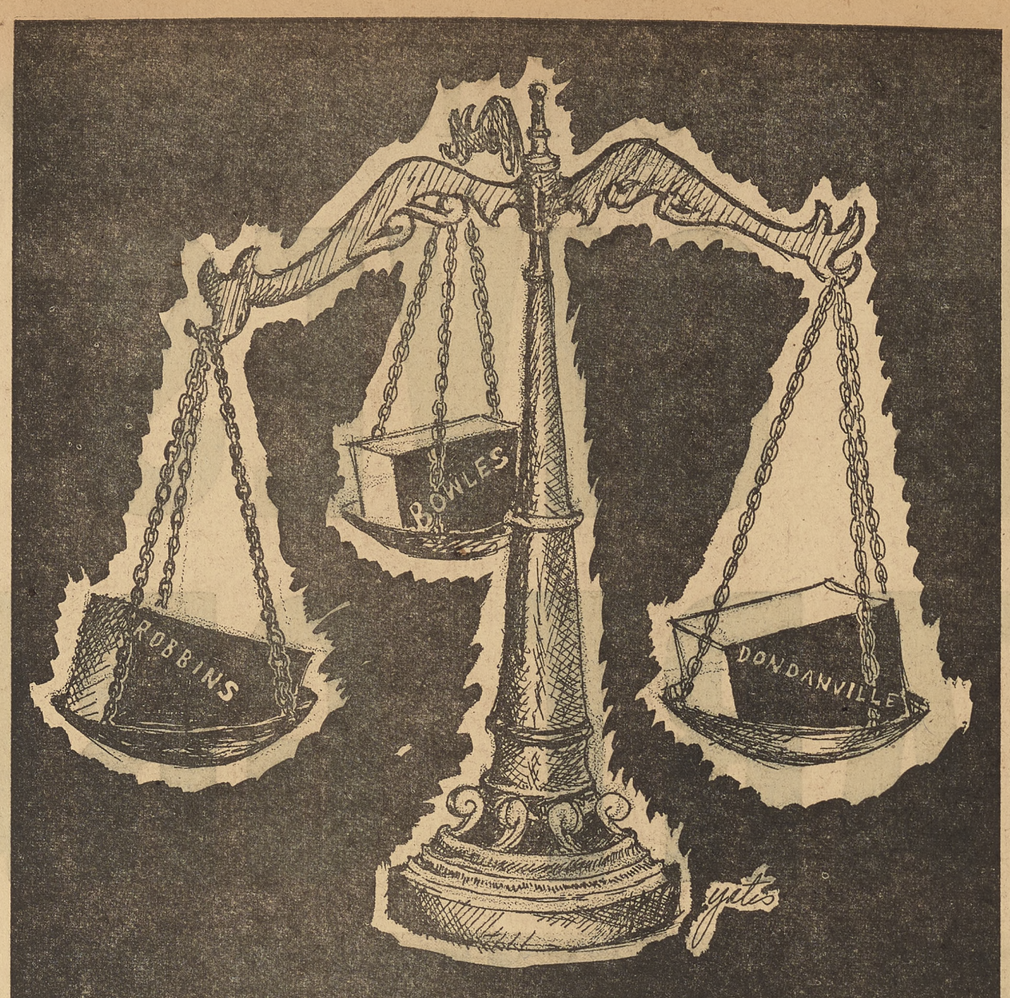
This amendment to the student government constitution will appear on the ballots on Monday and Tuesday for the approval of the voters. The Executive Council, in putting up the proposed amendment, sees the falacy of the two offices. For the past two semesters there has not been a Commissioner of Women's Athletics on the council for the simple reason that there has not been a Women's Athletic Organization.

The post has been termed by council members as "virtually non-existent." The council believes that by eliminating the position they can remove a piece of deadwood on the board without being injurious to any groups.

For a constitutional amendment to pass, there must be a two-thirds majority. The amendment has been tried during the past two elections but has failed because most students failed to realize the significance of the amendment.

The new position proposed, Commissioner of Athletics, could work into a real functioning office according to the council members. With the incorporation of the two posts the person elected would have his hands sufficiently busy during the semester, whereas now the two offices have a tendency to become stagnant with inactivity.

The Executive Council and the staff of the Valley Star recommend that you vote in favor of the lone constitutional revision on the ballot in Monday and Tuesday's elections.



Your Vote Will Help Tip the Scales

Trio of Candidates Offers Platforms In Student Body Presidential Race

Stan Bowles

To the students of Valley College,

As a candidate for the office of Associated Student Body President I pledge my allegiance to every member of the student body.

I can't and won't promise you things which we both know are not possible at this time at Valley. But I feel that the situation at Valley can be a dynamic one. Bigger and better events are becoming a part of the traditions and customs of the college.

Next semester will be no exception with created interest and enthusiasm. Here are the objectives I believe in and will encourage:

1. Organizing the Executive Council to a smooth functioning governing body dedicated to furthering Valley's endeavors and not seeking personal recognition.

2. Promotion of club unity through IOC and Club Day.

3. Improvement of Monarch Day and Homecoming.

4. Appropriations of money from the budget's surplus fund for the sophomore and freshman classes to create unity and working power.

5. With this money, there could be more activities for the entire student body. One example to create college spirit would be a Frosh-Soph Brawl. This would be inaugurated out of the appropriations and offered to all students. During the activity such events could take place as tug of wars, egg throwing contest, gunny sack races, competitive team games with refreshments and a dance in the evening.

6. Support of the athletic teams, sport rallies and a sports night with games, dancing and refreshments.

7. Selection of appointive offices on the basis of qualifications.

8. Bulletins to be read at a designated class hour to inform students of activities of the college.

9. More publicity to the community for acknowledgment and support for Valley. Functions which would invite the public and in return receive support from the community.

I am open to any suggestions you have for better and more successful functions at Valley.

JERRY ROBBINS

These are among the objectives that I propose to accomplish next semester should I be elected president. They are not irrational promises but practical ideas that can be achieved, I believe.

1. I am highly in favor of spending money in unappropriated surplus much the same as this semester's council and in that way letting students get a complete return on their $6.50 student body cards.

2. Inaugurate a Fall Inter-Organization Council songfest.

3. Juke box in the Student Lounge.

4. News broadcasts more centrally located. Greater audibility by the placement of speakers in the Cafeteria and Student Lounge.

5. Continuation of the student government handbooks.

6. Paid student government positions to offset the tremendous amount of time spent by the officers. This is also done at Compton College.

7. Propose a constitutional revision to make campaigning longer and thus give students a greater opportunity to become acquainted with the candidates.

8. Give two units credit to Executive Council members for a leadership class at which time they would learn parliamentary procedures and conduct their official meetings.

9. Some students believe that Valley would never get a Jr. Rose Bowl invitation because of the small turnout at our games. There needs to be a revival of school spirit and perhaps with the greatest utilization of publicity and publications this can be accomplished.

Past experiences show the local merchants will not support Valley so the spirit must come from within the college but I think the community should be encouraged as much as possible to recognize Valley and support the college activities in the Fall.

10. Valley is the third largest junior college in California with more than 7000 students yet there has never been more than 1000 students voting in any kind of election. Talk to your friends — encourage them to vote—let's break all election records.

After all, these people you are voting for run the school, spend your money and decide policies.

There should be no reason for not breaking the mythical "one thousand" when election time comes again and ridding Valley of voting apathy, one of democracy's greatest enemies.

JOHN DONDANVILLE

Valley College today is on the threshold of a new era. With construction of our new buildings now started, Valley College must face the future with a greater hope and enthusiasm than we have done in the past.

It is up to us, not as individuals, but as one group, to prepare for our future. Our entire thoughts must lie in what is best for Valley College and Valley College students. To attempt to completely harmonize a successful program, everyone must do his share.

It is up to us now, today, to make the decisions for the Valley College of tomorrow. I will definitely assure you, if I am elected, that Valley College student government will be run by Valley College students and that all will share in a program designed to balance the cultural, social and athletic programs. With this thought uppermost in mind, all groups must be equally and fairly represented.

I promise you, the students of Valley College, that if I am elected as your ASB president for the fall of 1957, I will do my best to represent you with all the ability at my command.

Independent vs. Organization

Election turmoil is with us again. Chuck Cozad, ASB president, took a step in the right direction by asking the council members to dig up two prospective replacements for their respective offices. Some of the members attempting to hustle two candidates ran into a few snags.

Grades, lack of interest and not enough units constitute part of the responsible problem. However, it seems that several possibles objected to running for student body positions because they felt that bucking certain organizations was too tough. Even the undercurrent of campus gossip and discussions comes to the conclusion that if one isn't a member of a certain group there is not much chance of taking an office.

What chance does an "independent" candidate for a student body office have?

This question came up at a council meeting last week. There is a feeling that certain organizations run the campus. Unfortunately or fortunately, as the case may be, the persons who generally belong to clubs and other organizations are usually those who take an active interest and part in student government and consequently, they are in a position to meet and know a wider circle of students.

As there are approximately 200 students on campus who belong to off-campus groups, it seems that the "non-org" candidate would have a landslide if he would get around to make himself known.

The eager candidate running on an independent ticket by getting around, greeting and meeting people, talking and organizing a real campaign, could probably mop up the election.

"If the independents will go to the meetings and talk to groups the student body will listen to him as a candidate and not a fraternity man," says Cozad.

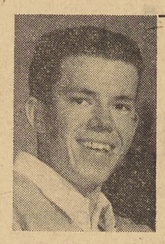
As the semester pulls to a close, the council is putting the finshing touches on a full semester. Highlighting their work are a series of successes such as Monarch Day with the Page Cavanaugh Quartet, Men's Night, the Prom and the other dances.

The Club Day innovation and the "booming" Fiesta Week extravaganza climaxed a full semester that each council mmeber should be proud of.

Planning and details that go into making arrangements for these events are squeezed into one-hour sessions held twice weekly. Often Cozad has had to budget the time because there is too much on the agenda.

So to Cozad, Stan Bowles, Lorelei Calcagno, Chuck Endres, Lloyd Frerer, Lucille Leo, Cyndy Murray, Jean Myers, John O'Donnell, Chuck Rossie, Bill Schampeau, Marlene Sharp, Mike Traxler, Sue Wise and Dottie Winter goes a great deal of credit for the extra hours and time and effort put into their individual jobs.

And also to the council's capable asistants Kermit Dale, Eugene Dallas Livingston-Little and Dean Nena Royer.



From Hill and Back

By Terry Hill

He's the Greatest!

Everywhere you go it's advertising. Billboards, television, newspapers and now movie theaters. If you turn on the radio all you hear are the commercials. Local stations KLAC and KMPC spend about one minute of advertising to every three minutes of music.

I realize it's a way of making a living but some advertising is over exaggerated or outright lies. Not too long ago local television stations were offering magic wash towels. When they got dirty all you had to do was dunk them in water and they became clean and only three for a dollar. Of course this racket was exposed because the towels were made of flimsy asbestos and would come apart when used.

There were other rackets such as photo-developing kits, sewing machines, jewel and vacuum cleaners.

But now the biggest racket of all advertising is being exposed, the automobile salesmen. About 600 complaints have ben filed against H. J. Caruso.

Charges against the dealer are multiple counts of conspiracy, forgery and grand theft. His trial is scheduled to continue on June 10 after last week's opening.

The trial heard about 15 complaints against Caruso and another 15, or as many as can be heard, on June 10.

There are other car dealers that are also under investigation but Caruso is the first sent to trial. Caruso goes under the commercial jingle "He's the Greatest." Caruso's lawyer Blase A. Bonpane stated, "We'll establish beyond question not only Caruso's innocence, but that this entire attack was inspired by special interests for their own selfish reasons."

Bonpane was referring to the 600 people who have filed complaints. June 10 will tell the story.

Approximately 90 per cent of the commercials you see or hear are legitimate but look out for the other ten, which are largely made up of automobile agencies.

A special note to car dealers, as a famous man once said: You can fool some of the people all of the time and all of the people some of the time, but you can't fool all the people all the time.

Letters to the Editor

Answers Are Logical

Editor:

In the past week I have received several isolated questions as to John Dondanville's resignation story in the Valley Star last week.

The question posed is why did John wait until the week before campaigning to announce his resignation? The answers are logical.

A student cannnot become a candidate until he has filed for nomination and has had his grade point average approved. Under our present student body constitution this cannot be done until the sixteenth week of the semester. As soon as his candidacy was approved, John resigned his position.

John has served as editor for two semesters. In this time he has been instrumental in garnering many honors for Valley College. I think it only right that they be listed. This at least in lieu of the usual "blaze of glory" that accompanies an editor's resignation.

His only reason for resigning was so that there could be no charge of using the Star as an organ to aid him in his candidacy for the presidency.

I think it is commendable that he did resign. There was no pressure put on him to do so and there is no law written or unwritten that states he had to. He did it of his own free will.

JOHN D. O'DONNELL

Perfectly Timed

Editor:

As summer approaches, the unhealthy smells of smog, dust, and dirty politics cloud the air over our asphalt alma mater. The first are unavoidable but it seems unnecessary that the students here should be forced to endure the last.

I'm speaking, of course, of the "news' story on ex-editor Dondanville's resignation which appeared in the Star last week. It could be coincidence but I have the feeling that this highly complementary story has something to do with the student body elections coming up Tuesday.

The fact that Dondanville did not resign earlier in the semester when he had already announced his candidacy leads me to suspect that this is the most perfectly timed resignation since L. Ewing Scott resigned his L.A. residence.

Monarchette Roster Up To 60; Need 40 More

"More than 60 girls have signed into drill team for next semester and we have room for 40 more," said Ruby Zuver, sponsor of the Monarchettes.

The Monarchettes will have a one unit gym class at 11 a.m., Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. The girls will be furnished with free transportation to all the games away from home including the San Diego game.

Uniforms for the drill team will be of yellow corduroy with a green felt "V" on the front. The skirts are lined with green satin and have matching green satin shorts.

They will be furnished free by the school and the cleaning bill also will be paid by the school.

Sizes Taken

White boots and gloves will complete the outfit and these must be purchased by the girls. Shoe and glove sizes will be taken at the first meeting and then ordered all together.

"No previous experience is necessary in drill team," said Miss Zuver, "however, we would like to encourage anyone who has been in a marching group to sign up. We would also like to encourage new students coming in from high school to sign up."

To March at Games

The group will probably not march at the first few games because they will not have time to get their routines worked out and the costumes in order. They will march at every game after that and anyone signing up for the class must make arrangements to attend.

Leaders Elected

Group leaders will be elected by the girls after a few days and some of the routines will be worked out by the girls.

Anyone who has ideas about routines may talk to Miss Zuver. Original ideas will be encouraged and all ideas will be considered.

IOC To Take Action On Inactive Clubs Tuesday

Because of last Tuesday's election assembly no Inter-Organziation meeting was held this week.

However, Chairman John O'Donnell went into conference with Dean of Student Activities Nena Royer to discuss the dropping of non-participating or inactive campus clubs.

At next Tuesday's club organization meeting, the IOC will vote on the "non-moving" clubs.

This movement has taken a full semester to fulfill since IOC started to "modernize" their constitution, back in February.

Also to be taken up in next week's meeting is the voting for the IOC Member of the Semester.

Nominated by the IOC members at a regular meeting two weeks ago were Ray Fergus of the International Club; Stan Hanover, Knights Service Organization; Cliff Liddy, Newman Club; Connie Smith, Coronets; Norman Tookey, Patrician and IOC secretary; and Bill Watts of the Business Club.

All the candidates were chosen for their leadership in IOC during this semester and for the work they did for their respective organizations and IOC Fiesta committees.

Mrs. Mary Tinglof defeated Mrs. Edith K. Stafford, president of the School Board, in the election held last Tuesday. The two women, candidates for Office No. 2 of the Board of Education, were slated for the run-off race after the general election last April 2.

Bond issues for the approval of the $45,900,000 recreation and library facilities were passed.

Mrs. Tinglof along with Dr. Ralph Richardson, who was elected during the April election, will take office on July 1.

CUSTODIAN CARVES BOOTS—H. Z. Coombs, Valley's newest custodian, does woodcarving as a hobby. He works on several kinds of wood. A pair of redwood cowboy boots, five and one-half inches high, took him 28 hours to carve and paint. Hailing from Corpus Christi, Texas, he has operated a kiddieland carnival: He is also a teacher of square dancing.

Texan Feels at Home In Cowboy Boots

Valley College's newest custodian — the one in the hat and cowboy boots—is H. Z. Coombs. He wears the hat and boots because he feels at home in them. He has worn them most of his life.

Coombs hails from Corpus Christi, Texas. There he operated a kiddieland carnival for three years.

Pay Low

But the hours were long and the pay was low. That's why Coombs headed for California and Woodland Hills, where he now resides with cousins.

Prior to his employment in Texas, he worked as a carpenter's helper in 1937 at Parker Dam.

Calls Square Dances

Coombs has interesting hobbies. One has been calling square dances. He taught square dancing in 1929-30 until its popularity waned.

Coombs says, "Square dancing is fun and wonderful exercise and not as difficult to learn as people think. Interest in square dancing has been renewed since 1943."

Carves Wood

Another of Coombs' hobies is woodcarving. Although maple is the easiest wood to work with, he works on several varieties of woods.

He recently completed a pair of redwood cowboy boots which are an exact replica of the regulation type and are five and one-half inches in height.

They took 28 hours to carve and paint. If pressed, he might display them. He might be persuaded to sell this work of art for about $25.

Practices Law

Sole support of his father, who practiced law and who wrote "Prairie Dog Lawyer," a treatise on early happenings in the courtroom; and his mother, Coombs never married.

TA Advisory Group Forms

Valley College's theater arts department has formed an advisory committee for the purpose of giving the drama group the qualifications necessary for success in the competitive theatrical world.

First meeting of the advisory board has been tentatively set for Monday, June 17, 7:30 p.m., in the Valley Green and Gold Room.

Scheduled to attend this meeting are Jeffrey Hunter, motion picture and television star; Albert McClery, executive producer, NBC Matinee Theater; Al Trescony, talent head, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios; Preston Foster, star of motion pictures and television's "Waterfront" series; Arthur Hauser, executive, Twentieth Century-Fox; Mitten Collins, public relations director, Pasadena Community Playhouse; Harold Lipstein, head cameraman, M-G-M studios; and Beverly Zanoline, former Valley student, now a teacher at Corvallis High School and a professional singer.

According to Valley theater arts head Bob E. Davis, the values of the advisory board is unlimited.

Cal Tech Honors Go to Freshman

Another student records a Valley College first. This time it's 17-year-old freshman Jerry Kasper, chemistry student from Van Nuys High School.

Last year, representing Van Nuys, he entered the American Chemical Society's chemistry examination. Six hundred two students from 100 Southern California high schools competed for scholarship honors.

With his keen knowledge of the subject, Kasper grabbed first place in the competition and was awarded the Aerojet General scholarship to the California Institute of Technology, one of the finest engineering and chemistry schools in the country.

Achieves Honors

Recently Kasper was notified that he had made Honors at Entrance at Cal Tech. He is the first Valley College student ever to achieve this honor. Honors at Entrance is a rating which places a student in the top 10 per cent of the class entering the Institute.

While attending Van Nuys High, Kasper took part in two other exams. He belonged to the math team and entered with four teammates the William B. Orange Math Exam. Van Nuys put on a tremendous display of mathematical genius as all five team members, out of 178 participants, finished in the top eight places, Kasper picking up a sixth.

Uses Skills

When the AAPT sponsored the Southern California Physics Exam, he again competed, this time against top physics students from high schools throughout the California Coast. Not a physics major, but using his scientific skills, he placed eighth in the competition.

Final Concert Will Feature VC Faculty

Last Campus Concert of the semester will feature faculty members and will be held Tuesday in Room 74.

Those participating in the concert are Cleo Knox, soprano; Patti Knox, soprano; Richard Knox, baritone; Lauren Rhoades, violin; Beverly Richards, violin; Lorraine Eckardt, piano; Betty Rhoades, harp; and Earl Immel, clarinet.

Selections will include "From God Shall Naught Divide Me" from the Symphonia Sacrae, Book II by Heinrich Schuetz; "Fantaisie, Opus 124," by Camille Saint-Saens; "Andante con dolore," from the Trio for clarinet, violin and piano by Aram Khachaturian; "Der Gangzun Liebchen" by Brahms; and "Suite for violin, clarinet and piano" by Milhaud.

Special attraction of this concert is the fact that for the first time this year the students will have a chance to hear the music faculty perform.

The program will begin at noon.

Club Activities

Bullfight Jaunt Planned

Two remaining activities on the Spanish Club's agenda are a trip to the bullfights and their annual banquet.

The club plans to journey to Tiajuana Sunday, June 23, for the bullfights and lunch at the country club.

The annual banquet will be held Saturday, June 15. Vice President in charge of activities Agnes Moore will handle the arrangements for the banquet.

Spanish Club took in approximately $140 from their activities during the Fiesta, according to Arthur D. Avila, club sponsor.

Proceeds came from the ball rolling game and the sale of tacos. The group will meet Tuesday in Room 45 at 11 a.m.

Poster Party Held For Three Skiers

A poster party was the occasion for the Sunday meeting of the Ski Lions. Many members gathered at Carl Bedwell's home to show their individuality in creating posters for three fellow members who are running for school positions.

Complete with paints, brushes and posters, the assembly line turned out some 20 campaign posters.

After the work was fiinshed, members relaxed over a barbecue pit for a weiner roast. The remainder of the day was spent playing badminton, socker, ping pong and pool.

Members Slate French Dinner

French Club members sponsored a carrot sale Tuesday in honor of their mascot, "Pierre O'Hare." Other activities of the Societaire du Lapin Agile include plans for a dinner at a French restaurant.

Tentative date for the French dinner is Saturday, June 8. According to Cyndy Murray, president, the club members plan to experience real Paris atmosphere and eat French food.

Six To Be Installed At Dinner Meeting

Six members of the Tau Alpha Epsilon-Les Savants officers for next semester will be installed Saturday at Hody's Restaurant.

Serving as president is Del Wall. Others include Bob Eckes, vice president; Inez Criss, recording secretary; Edith Wagner, corresponding secretary; George Coe Jr., treasurer; and Barbara Cowan, historian.

Guests include Mr. and Mrs. Walter T. Coultas, Mr. and Mrs. William J. McNelis and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kinzek.

Kinzek will co-sponsor the society's activities next semester.

TAE pins are available and may be purchased from Corrine Schindler, present treasurer.

Engineers Plan Dinner-Dance

Valley College's Engineers Club, along with two other college clubs, are planning a dinner dance June 22 at the Glen-Aire Country Club.

The Engineers Club reached a decision at its Sunday night meeting at the home of Neil Hutton to hold the dinner dance in conjunction with LA City College and Pierce Junior College. The cost will be $3.50 per person.

Invitations are being sent out this week.

Patricians To Elect Officers Thursday

Election of officers for the coming semester will be held by the Patrician Club next Thursday noon, Room 12, according to Sue Drelinger, president.

The Patricians, a service organization, is sponsored by Wilford E. Jenks, philosophy instructor.

Regular monthly meetings will be held the first Thursday of each month during the coming semester.

Music Organization To Make Changes

Sigma Alpha Phi, music club, will strive for changes to make a better club.

Better relations between the student council and the club, more music activities and a different initiation ceremony were offered as possible changes to strengthen the club at last Sunday's meeting.

Young Democrats To Organize

Next organization meeting of the Jefferson-Jackson Young Democrats club will be held Sunday at 8 p.m. at 14122 Haynes St., Van Nuys.

Purpose of the meeting is to discuss plans for a social event which will be held in the near future.

Anyone interested in attending the meeting can get more information by calling Ron Marren at STate 6-3292.

Newman Club Holds Campaign Meeting

More than 85 persons attended the Newman Club's third semiannual campaign party last Wednesday evening at Notre Dame High School. Candidates for the various student body offices outlined their platforms.

Dancing to the music of the Manhattans followed the campaign program.

Humor In Sports?

A Valley athlete was recently asked on campus if he wore his jacket with his letter on it so that they would know where to send him when he got lost. The fellow asking the question was almost put in the dead letter department.

The just finished golf season brings back a quip for golfers. Placing his ball on the tee, a complacent golfer looked away to the next green, and declared confidently, "That's good for one long drive and a putt." He swung the driver, tore up the sod, and managed to move the ball a few feet off the tee. Stepping forward, the caddy handed him the putter and suggested, "Now for one heck of a putt."

For the skiers there is the story which took place at a Colorado winter resort. An instructor was showing a group of novices the proper technique in executing turns. Most of the pupils, attempting to imitate him, failed miserably—their skis spread out and they slid along in a sitting position for a few feet. After one middle-aged woman did this, the instructor lifted her to her feet, and with masterly tact, remarked, "Very good lady. Now all you must do is eliminate the middle track.

In first round baseball play, the Monarch horsehiders were leading San Diego going into the bottom of the fifth when one sweet young thing arrived at what must've been her first ball game. "The score is nothing to nothing," she heard a fan say.

"Oh, good," she cooed to her escort. "Then we haven't missed a thing."

At the close of the basketball season this semester, there could be heard of in the Men's Gym a voice exhuberating on and on about he helped Valley beat East Los Angeles last year. Finally a spectator quieted him with, "Which team were you playing on?"

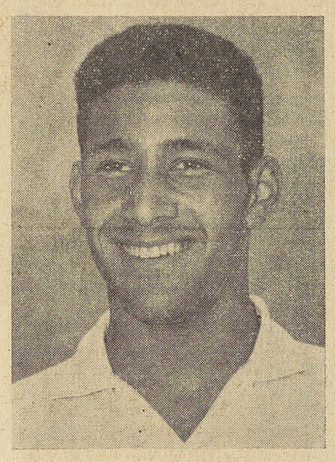
To finish with this nonsensical humor is the comment of the Lion horserace enthusiast when asked the results of his afternoon at the track, replied: "I broke even, and boy, did I need it."

Wilkins' 14.6 Effort Takes State Second

By LUIS ROSENFELD, Star Staff Writer

Alonzo Wilkins, Valley College's hurdler-deluxe, raced to an unofficial 14.6 timing in the 120 high hurdles to place him second in that event at last Saturday's annual All-California Junior College Track and Field Championships.

Held in conjunction with the Modesto Relays in Modesto, the junior college championship was nabbed by Mount San Antonio with 68 points. Los Angeles City College and Harbor came in second and third, respectively.



ALONZO WILKINS
Garners Hurdle Second

Wilkins, who was Valley's only contribution to the finals, was in great form throughout the hurdle race. With three obstacles to go, he pulled out into the lead, but as Coach Mike Cirino says, "He got excited and lost his race."

Setting a new meet record in 14.5 and beating Wilkins was Long Beach's Dick Fischl. Third place went to Harbor's Bob Cook, also in 14.6 (same time as Wilkins).

Harbor's big flash Willie White set a new national 100 yard dash record when he sprinted the space in 9.4 seconds wiping away Valley's Ken Dennis' 9.5 mark, set last year, and Salinas' Hal Davis standard set in 1940. White also won the low hurdles with a new meet time of 23 seconds flat.

Another national record fell when Mount SAC won the mile relay in 3:15.3. They erased away their own record set earlier this year in 3:15.6.

Pearson on All-Metro Selections

Ron Pearson, Valley's top pitcher of the 1957 baseball season, placed on the 1957 All-Conference first string team that was made public earlier this week.

Other Monarchs winning honors on the team were honrable mentions Ed Zimmerman, third baseman, and Pat Mitchell, first baseman on the 1957 squad.

Selected as the conference player of the year was San Diego's short stop Eddie Sada. Sada led his team in batting and fielding and guided them to a three way tie for the conference championship.

Long Beach City College, co-champions for 1957, dominated the first team with five players, while San Diego Junior College placed three.

The only repeat selection from 1956 is Bill Osterhoudt, Long Beach catcher. Dave Hertneck, first team selection this year at an outfield spot made the 1956 second team at second base, and San Diego's Martin Nellis jumped from the 1956 second team to this year's first at second base.

Following are the 1957 selections:

Haynes Tops Lion Hitters

With the completion of the baseball season, the statistics show that Pud Haynes led the Valley horsehiders in hitting and Ron Pearson had the best record as a chucker for the Monarchs.

Haynes finished out the campaign with a .357 batting average garnering 15 hits in 42 times at bat. Haynes who covered the infield and outfield for the Lions this season played in all but one of the Metropolitan Conference games this season.

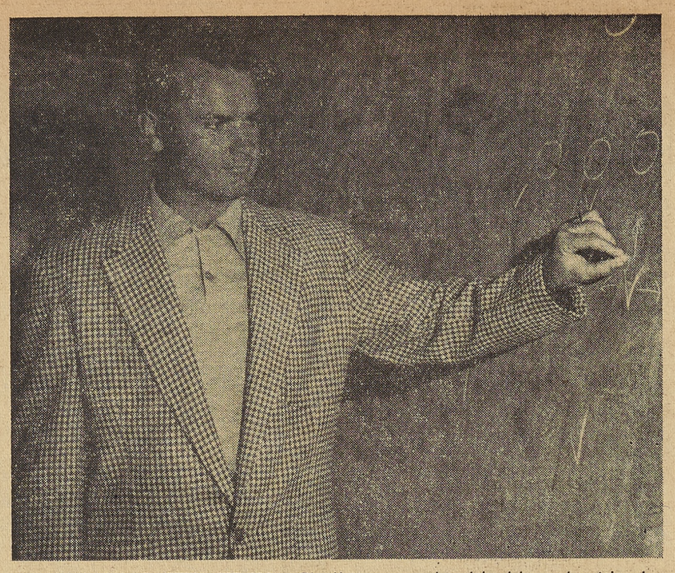
Mitchell Second in Batting

Pat Mitchell who took over for Ron Mertus at first base early in the season ended up batting a .350 clip, second only to Haynes on the Monarch roster. Bill Higgins, Chuck Rezo and Ron Wold followed Mitchell in hitting during the loop tussles.

Rezo proved to be the power hitter for the locals as he banged out two home runs this year. Higgins led the club in RBI's with 14, Mitchell captured the most hits with 20 and Higgins along with Mitchell were the only two ball players to appear in all 14 conference games.

Pearson Makes First Team

Ron Pearson, Leon Criner and Higgins shared the mound duties the better part of the season for coach Charlie Mann's baseballers. Pearson pitched the most innings and recorded the most strikeouts with 56 plus seeing some mound duty in 11 of the 14 Metro clashes.



DIAGRAMING STRATEGY—Chalking up the blackboard with defensive tactics is George Goff, recently added football line coach, who will assist head mentor Al Hunt in the next pigskin season. He replaces Marty Feldman who will be coaching the San Jose State charges. Goff will be joining backfield coach Bus Sutherland and an end coach to be named.

Honor Graduate Will Tour 1957 Pigskin Forward Wall

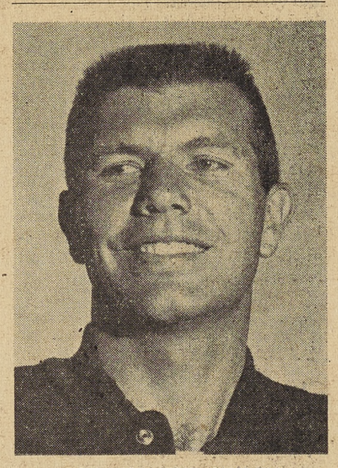
Newest and youngest addition to the Monarch coaching staff is George Goff, new line coach for the green and gold football squad. Coach Goff, now a physical education instructor at Birmingham High School, is filling the spot vacated by Marty Feldmen who is now line coach at San Jose State College.

Goff, an Occidental graduate, played baseball and four years of footbal while working for his physical education degree. His first coaching jobs were at Santa Fe High School and Horace Mann Junior High.

Coach Goff is head baseball coach at Birmingham where he has been teaching for the past year and a half.

Goff was an honor graduate at Hollywood High School and Oxy. He made All-Western league guard at Hollywood and was a member of the undefeated Oxy Raisin Bowl squad in 1948.

Coach Goff, 28 year old mentor, resides in Granada Hills with his wife and two sons.



COACH MIKE WILEY
New Aquatic Mentor

Wiley To Coach Aquatic Sports

Taking over the reins as Valley aqua coach for next year is Mike Wiley, new Monarch physical education instructor. Wiley was end coach at Valley in 1955 and 1956 when the Lion footbalers took first and second places, respectively, in the conference.

Coach Wiley is a UCLA graduate but also attended the University of Redlands for a year and Glendale City College for a year and a half.

At Redlands Wiley competed for the swimming and football teams and played football when he entered Glendale.

He will start his coaching duties on the water polo team next fall and will finish with the swim squad in the spring.

Wiley replaced swim coach Bruce Kidder who begins a coaching position at Pierce Junior College next year. Coach Wiley, a physical educational instructor at San Fernando Junior High has been there for two and a half years.

Expecting to get some fine high school talent for both the water sports, Wiley is looking forward to a successful year.

'Hawks Snag Intramurals Team Title

The Ballhawks, piloted by Art Keith during baseball and Don Pelter in volleyball was awarded the title of "Best Intramural Team," for having earned the most intramural points during the current season.

Cecil Heron and Jerry Herndon won the doubles championship in badminton when they deefated Ernest Aron and Juan Pedevilla 15-10 and 15-11, in the championship decider last week.

Ernest Aaron coped the badminton singles runner-up metal by downing yell leader Jerry Jackson by a 15-10 and 15-13 tally.

Bob Blair's GI's went undefeated through intramural volleyball as their final opponent, the Fowlers, failed to show giving the GIs an automatic win. Their final record was 9-0-0 for the season.

Five men make up the championship squad. They are Bob Blair, captain; Gary Eberhardt, Dave MacKechnie, Gary Richardson and Don Vukovich.

The intramural "Individual Award" given to the man who contributes the most to the success of intramural sports will be announced at the Sports Banquet Wednesday, June 5, at the Glen-Aire Country Club, stated coach Bus Sutherland, intramural director.

All intramural award winners can receive their complementary tickets from the student store, said Sutherland and guest tickets for dates are $3.

Dennis Ready To Fly At Compton Relays

When Valley College's best all-time sprinter, Ken Dennis, was declared ineligible a few weeks ago, he wasn't able to run under the Green and Gold colors of Valley so the Southern California Striders' Track Club grabbed him to dash in their relay and sprint events.

In the Compton Relays tomorrow night, Dennis has been invited to run the short dash again as he did last week at the Modesto Relays for the Striders.

Those that are entered in the field are Abeline Christian's Bobby Morrow (9.4), Duke's Dave Sime (9.3), California's Leamon King (9.3), Fresno State's Mike Agostini (9.3), Oklahoma A&M's Orlando Hazely (9.4) and Harbor's Willie White (9.4).

The diminutive dash ace will really have to scamper to finish among the leaders in this race. Dennis has a best time this season of 9.5.

At Modesto, Dennis took a third in the 100 behind Fresno State's Mike Agostini and Oklahoma A&M's Orlando Hazely. Agostini was clocked in 9.5.

Dennis was also instrumental in aiding the Strdiders to their winning 3:21.1 timing in the sprint medley relay. Although the Striders practice only in their spare time, they rummaged enough points at last week's Modesto Relays to place second with 37¾ points behind Occidental's 39. The University of Southern California was third with 33 points.

Earlier this month, Dennis, along with teammates Mel Clipper, George Hutcherson and Mike Larabee sped to a world record in the 880 yard relay event, for the Striders. The time was a blistering 1:24.0.

Award Letters Wednesday For Seven Spring Sports

Valley's semiannual athletics awards banquet will be held for the second straight year at Glen-Aire Country Club. The affair will start at 7 p.m. Wednesday, June 5, with dinner being the first order of business followed by the presentation of awards. The club is located at 3910 Stansbury Drive, Sherman Oaks.

Public Is Invited

The public is invited to the affair at three dollars a plate. Tickets are available in the student store. All inter-collegiate award winners will be honored and are invited free of charge.

Members of the basketball, baseball, tennis, track, swimming, golf, and gymnastics squads will be given awards. Besides lettermen's awards, Valley's intramural champions will also receive medals. Team captains and most valuable players will be recognized at the banquet also.

In basketball there were rotating captains for the games with an honorary captain chosen for the season. He will be announced at the banquet. Ron Mertus was the selected captain for the baseball squad while Dennis LaZar filled the position for the tennis team.

Ken Dennis held the co-captain spot for the track events with Alonzo Wilkins covering for the field events.

At last year's banquet Dick Windham received three awards and Chuck Endres was given two. Windham was awarded the team captain and most outstanding trophies and was the recipient of the Letterman Club award.

Endres Took Trophy

Endres captured the team captain awards in water polo and gymnastics. Dave Sandell copped the most inspirational trophy for baseball. Jack Kirby was awarded the team captain trophy for tennis and the most outstanding in tennis was received by Phil Mullen.

Golf gave one trophy to Harold Taylor as team captain. To round out the ceremonies Terry Healy was awarded the most outstanding trophy in gymnastics and Gary Shair the most outstanding in water polo.
